

Congratulations! Your account is enrolled in the Flint Energies Pay Your Way prepay program. You will pay for your electricity how and when you choose. Read and keep this guide as a reference for your prepay account.

Understanding Rates and Daily Charges

Base Charge

The monthly base charge for Pay Your Way accounts is $38; it is pro-rated daily and averages just over a dollar a day. The base charge, or access fee, covers the costs of operating the Cooperative and delivering power.

Energy Charges

Typically, energy use is the largest portion of your Pay Your Way daily charges. Each kilowatt hour (kWh) costs the standard rate (11.05 cents per kWh), the same as Flint Energies' average residential energy charge. The amount of energy you use is multiplied by this rate.

WPCA

The Wholesale Power Cost Adjustment (WPCA), which is calculated monthly based on power supply costs, applies to all accounts. The WPCA can be a negative (resulting in a credit to your bill) or it may be positive (resulting in an addition to your bill).

Other Charges

Any other monthly charges for services, such as outdoor or covenant lighting, are divided equally over 30 days. Prepay accounts enrolled in Operation Round Up® or Operation Round Up Plus contribute the same as traditional post pay when the account is balanced at the end of each month.

Debt Management

- If a prior balance was transferred to your prepay account for debt management, after the initial payment, 25% of each payment you make will go towards repayment.
- The amount of your debt management balance can be monitored by calling 1.800.342.3616 or by visiting a Flint Energies office.

Reading Your Meter

The meter for your account is read on an hourly basis each day. The midnight meter reading accounts for your day's energy usage and daily charges; it's the amount you will be billed for at 3 p.m. At approximately 6 p.m., you will receive a text alert notifying you of your balance. If you have not paid any outstanding charges by the next day at 9:45 a.m., your account will be disconnected.

Sometimes during the billing process, a communication interruption between our system and your meter may occur. In this case, your account will be billed based off your most recent usage, usually an average of the last 14 days. This is considered an averaged, or pending, read. When communications have been re-established between our system and your meter, typically by the next billing cycle, your account will bill based on the actual energy usage and daily charges. If the averaged amount (pending read) is greater than what you actually used for the affected date, you will receive a credit for the difference. If the averaged amount is less than what you actually used, you will be charged for the difference. You will be charged for your actual usage only.

Setting Your Alerts

When your account was started, all available alerts were activated (pending opt-in my Member). You can change your alert settings at any time by logging into your account at flintpayments.com. To ensure that you receive the alerts for your account, it is important to keep contact information up to date.

Paying on Your Account

You can add funds to your account in a variety of ways, using several payment options.

Disconnects

- Your account is subject to disconnection when your balance reaches zero. If you do not add funds to your account by 9:45 a.m., electrical service will be automatically disconnected.
- When adding funds to your account after disconnection, you must add enough funds to reach a minimum balance of $20 to be reconnected.
- Once your account has the negative balance plus $20 added, a signal will be automatically sent to your meter for power to be restored in about 30 minutes or more, depending on the number of reconnects on our system.
- If an account is disconnected and does not become active for seven consecutive days, the account will be considered inactive and a final bill will be mailed. At this point, service cannot be reconnected without reapplying.
